Karen: Hey honey, how are we today?
me: good, dad's paying my rent, had to go to Home Depot with him though me: Holder having presumably been too busy to investigate that particular matter, Anony Karen: what? you cut off
me: oh, that was for someone else
Karen: OK, am currently updating your contact list for publications to pitch and have LOTS of new names -- lots of your old people have been replaced. Should have it to you by end of day.
